

Harborside School Book Drive
for Academy of the Sacred Heart in New Orleans

Harborside School families, along with the nonprofit organization Read All Over, are spearheading a book drive to rebuild the library of a school devastated by Hurricane Katrina. The school library of Academy of the Sacred Heart in New Orleans was flooded during the hurricane and many of the books were destroyed by water and mold. Here at Harborside we are hoping to collect enough books to not only rebuild Academy of the Sacred Heart's library, but other schools in the area as well. San Diegans can help by donating new or gently used books at any of the collection locations listed below. Thank you to our community partners for helping us gather books!
